

I moved from Missouri and completed my final year of high school at Warren G. Harding in Warren, Ohio. I am always trying to learn something new.

I strive to take as much from my life and its circumstances as I can. I have learned that knowledge is something that no one can take away from you. I am a pre-med major and hope to eventually become a surgeon.

